PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Mid-sized holographic sight designed and manufactured by EoTech. CNC machined from aluminum and anodized in a matte black coating. A weight of 326g and dimensions of 142x51x53mm place it in the mid-sized class of devices on the market. The sealed construction makes it water, dust, and fog-resistant as well as shockproof. The 30x23mm lens glass is covered in anti-scratch and reflection multi-coating. A 1 MOA-sized dot with a 68 MOA ring with a 1/2 MOA adjustment value is projected via an LED with twenty brightness levels. With no parallax and unlimited eye relief, 512A65 guarantees quick and accurate target acquisition in all weather conditions. The power is provided by two AA batteries in a lever-secured housing, giving it a running time of 12000 hours at a medium brightness setting. Picatinny Interface mount provides solid and stable zero retention in the harshest conditions.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Hi-Capa 5.1 Dragon, manufactured by WE, is a full metal, semi-automatic replica of one of the most iconic pistols in the world. It was launched with the explicit mission of enhancing certain essential features of 1911-style handguns. It is powered by green gas, weighs 1.1kg, has a length of 222 mm, and offers a magazine capacity of 31 rounds. Hi-Capa 5.1 Dragon uses a 110 mm long inner barrel and generates approximately 335 FPS.

We can find fiber front sight and adjustable rear sight on the slide – a great solution to improve sight visibility and precision. Lightening cuts on the front of the slide also help to return to the target more easily after each shot.

Other significant enhancements of this replica model are improved grooves on the slide, ambidextrous safety lever, grip safety, high capacity magazine, and thread in the barrel. The handgun utilizes scales with a non-slip serrated texture on the grip surfaces.

The solid and high-quality construction of the replica contains elements (the frame and slide) mainly made of metal. On the other hand, grip panels and other components are injection molded from polymers. On the inside, WE provided quality parts that ensure long-term usage and precision of each shot.

The Hi-Capa 5.1 Dragon implements a robust gas blowback (GBB) system that imitates recoil and slide action during firing. It provides an exceptional and realistic user experience, like shooting an authentic pistol. Furthermore, the handgun offers an adjustable hop-up mechanism to improve the BB's accuracy and stability during the shot.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

The M1911 MEU, manufactured by WE, is a full metal, semi-automatic replica of one of the most iconic pistols in the world. It was launched with the explicit mission of enhancing certain essential features of 1911-style handguns. It is powered by green gas, weighs 1.0kg, has a length of 220 mm, and offers a magazine capacity of 15 rounds. The M1911 MEU uses a 112 mm long inner barrel and generates approximately 320 FPS.

This model of the replica has main improvements such as effective grooves on the slide, high visibility iron sights, ambidextrous safety lever, and thread in the barrel. The handgun utilizes scales with a non-slip serrated texture on the grip surfaces.

The solid and high-quality construction of the replica contains elements (the frame and slide) mainly made of metal. On the other hand, grip scales and other components are injection molded from polymers. On the inside, WE provided quality parts that ensure long-term usage and precision of each shot.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Hi-Capa 5.1, manufactured by WE, is a full metal, semi-automatic replica of one of the most iconic pistols in the world. It was designed with the explicit mission of enhancing certain essential features of 1911-style handguns. It is powered by green gas, weighs 1kg, has a length of 220 mm, and offers a magazine capacity of 31 rounds. Hi-Capa 5.1 uses a 110 mm long inner barrel and generates approximately 335 FPS.

This replica model has main improvements, such as high visibility adjustable iron sights, an ambidextrous safety lever, an improved pistol grip, enlarged trigger safety, and thread in the barrel. The model has a lightweight cocking mechanism and a specially-made aluminum trigger. The handgun utilizes scales with a non-slip serrated texture on the grip surfaces.

Solid and high-quality item offers primarily metal external construction. Only grip panels are injection molded from polymers. On the inside, WE provided quality parts that ensure long-term usage and precision of each shot.

Hi-Capa 5.1 implements a moving slide and a robust gas blowback (GBB) system that imitates recoil and slide action during firing. It provides an exceptional and realistic user experience, like shooting an authentic pistol. Furthermore, the handgun offers an adjustable hop-up mechanism to improve the BB's accuracy and stability during the shot. In addition, after shooting the final round from the magazine, the lock remains in the rear position.

JG36C - An Excellent Entry-Level Replica.

Why you should have it?

- Durable, reliable, and affordable.
- Fully ambidextrous.
- Compact size.
- Easy to upgrade and customize.

As one of China's most recognizable airsoft brands, Jing Gong has vast experience creating cost-effective replicas. JG products are a great entry-level choice for new players and provide a good base for further modifications and tuning. The original firearm was one of the most futuristic-looking rifles at the time of its adoption. This particular model is assembled in a "Compact" configuration. Its moderate size, folding stock, and good ergonomics make it a perfect choice for close and mid-range engagements on airsoft fields.

This 700/850mm long replica is fed from a hicap magazine, weighs around 2600g, and shoots in a semi and full-automatic from a 256mm long inner barrel. At the front, we can find a polymer handguard with a RIS system paired with a rail at the top. This setup allows users to attach different accessories suitable to their preference or mission requirements. The barrel is outfitted with 14 mm CCW thread and can take a multitude of various muzzle devices. The foldable buttstock is comfortable to use and helps with quick target acquisition.

The JG36C is predominantly manufactured from high-quality ABS polymer with few elements fabricated from aluminum alloy - just like the original. Elements like iron sights, Picatinny rails, barrel, and flash hider are made from metal, while the pistol grip, stock, body, and handguard are made from polymers. The V3-type gearbox guarantees adequate performance and provides a stable base for further tuning and modifications.

Compact dimensions and good performance make JG36C a satisfactory, cost-effective choice for new players starting their adventure with airsoft.

Spare magazines, accessories, and replicas in other colors and length configurations are also available. Be sure to check them out in our webshop! Do not forget to subscribe to our newsletter to stay updated with the latest news and arrivals - Airsoftzone Newsletter

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Hi-Capa 7, manufactured by WE, is a full metal, semi-automatic replica of one of the most iconic pistols in the world. It was launched with the explicit mission of enhancing certain essential features of 1911-style handguns. It is powered by green gas, weighs 1.2kg, has a length of 280 mm, and offers a magazine capacity of 31 rounds. Hi-Capa 7 uses a 165 mm long inner barrel and generates approximately 390 FPS.

We can find fiber front sight and adjustable rear sight on the top – a great solution to improve sight visibility and precision. Lightening cuts on the front of the slide also help to return to the target more easily after each shot.

Other significant enhancements of this replica model include improved grooves on the slide, ambidextrous safety lever, grip safety, high capacity magazine, and thread in the barrel. It also features a Picatinny rail for mounting light amplification modules and laser designators. The handgun utilizes scales with a non-slip serrated texture on the grip surfaces.

The solid and high-quality construction of the replica contains elements (the frame and slide) mainly made of metal. On the other hand, grip panels and other components are injection molded from polymers. On the inside, WE provided quality parts that ensure long-term usage and precision of each shot.

The Hi-Capa 7 implements a robust gas blowback (GBB) system that imitates recoil and slide action during firing. It provides an exceptional and realistic user experience, like shooting an authentic pistol. Furthermore, the handgun offers an adjustable hop-up mechanism to improve the BB's accuracy and stability during the shot.

Whether you're an experienced airsoft professional or a newcomer, this replica model is an excellent choice for anybody searching for a reliable sidearm.

At the front, we can find an aluminum handguard fitted with a quad RIS system. This setup allows the user to attach different accessories suitable to preference or mission requirements. The barrel is outfitted with 14 mm CCW thread and can take a multitude of various muzzle devices.

Elements like handguard with rail sections, outer barrel, upper receiver, and muzzle device are made from metal, with the body, buttstock, pistol grip, front grip, and magazine manufactured from polymers. V3-type gearbox guarantees adequate performance and provides a stable base for further tuning and modifications.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

P08, manufactured by WE, is a full metal, semi-automatic replica of one of the first reliable autoloaders, which served in both world wars. It is powered by green gas, weighs 830g, has a length of 216 mm, and offers a magazine capacity of 15 rounds. P08 uses a 92 mm long inner barrel and generates approximately 295 FPS.

A unique toggle lock system and robust gas blowback system provide an exceptional and realistic user experience, like shooting an authentic pistol. Furthermore, the handgun offers a fixed hop-up mechanism that extends the weapon's effective range.

The solid and high-quality construction of the replica contains elements (the frame and slide) mainly made of metal. On the other hand, grip panels and other components are injection molded from polymers. On the inside, WE provided quality parts that ensure long-term usage and precision of each shot.

Whether you're an experienced airsoft professional or a newcomer, this replica model is an excellent choice for anybody searching for a reliable sidearm.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

A very faithful G&P-recreation of the Squad Advanced Marksman Rifle (SAM-R) of the US Marine Corps (USMC). Except for the pistol grip and the stock, this AEG consists only of metal, and all parts were crafted with care and precision. As is the case for the original, a one-piece outer barrel and Free Float RAS system are included. The internals were manufactured with skill, so that this model has passed all of our tests, with enthusiastic reviews. As this model is quite long, it has been given the role of combat sniper and it will mainly appear in woodland scenarios.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Hi-Capa 5.1 K, manufactured by WE, is a full metal, semi-automatic replica of one of the most iconic pistols in the world. It was designed with the explicit mission of enhancing certain essential features of 1911-series style handguns. It is powered by Green Gas, weighs around 1kg, has a length of 22.2 mm, and offers a magazine capacity of 31 rounds. Hi-Capa 5.1 K uses a 110 mm long inner barrel, generating approximately 330 FPS.

The handgun has a classical front sight and an adjustable rear sight, which is ideal for boosting aiming down the sights and precise shooting. Other significant improvements of this replica model are effective grooves on the slide, ambidextrous safety lever, grip safety, thread in the barrel, and magwell for quick reloads. Lightening cuts on the front of the slide also help to return to the target more quickly after each shot. The handgun utilizes scales with a non-slip serrated texture on the grip surfaces.

The solid and high-quality construction of the replica contains elements (the frame and slide) mainly made of metal. On the other hand, grip panels and other components are injection molded from polymers. On the inside, WE provided quality parts that ensure long-term usage and precision of each shot.

The Hi-Capa 5.1 K implements a moving slide and a robust gas blowback (GBB) system that imitates recoil and slide action during firing. It provides an exceptional and realistic user experience, like shooting an authentic pistol. Furthermore, the handgun offers an adjustable hop-up mechanism to improve the BB's accuracy and stability during the shot.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

As one of the most recognizable airsoft brands from China, Jing Gong collected vast experience in the creation of cost-effective replicas. JG products are a great entry-level choice for new players and provide a good base for further modifications and tuning.

The original firearm was one of the most futuristic-looking rifles at the time of its adoption. This particular model is delivered in a second "Kurz" short configuration. Thanks to its moderate size, folding stock, and good ergonomics, it makes a perfect choice for close and mid-range engagements on airsoft fields.

This 644/860mm long replica is fed from a hicap magazine, weighs around 2800g, and shoots in a semi and full-automatic from a 355mm long inner barrel. At the front, we can find a polymer handguard with a RIS system paired with a rail at the top. This setup allows the user to attach different accessories suitable to their preference or mission requirements. The barrel is outfitted with 14 mm CCW thread and can take a multitude of various muzzle devices. The folding buttstock is comfortable to use and helps with quick target acquisition.

The JG36K is predominantly manufactured from high-quality ABS polymer with few elements fabricated from aluminum alloy - just like the original. Elements like sights, rails, outer barrel, and flash hider are made from metal, with the pistol grip, stock, body, and handguard manufactured from polymers.

Moderate dimensions and good performance make JG36K a great cost-effective choice for new players starting their adventure with airsoft.

Due to it's quite high mounting rail you should not use too high red dot sights. Otherwise you will have trouble resting your cheek onto the stock during boning. That makes it very inconvenient and decreases the precision. In that case we recommend the PX6 from Pirate Arms.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

As one of the most recognizable airsoft brands from China, Jing Gong collected vast experience in the creation of cost-effective replicas. JG products are a great entry-level choice for new players and provide a good base for further modifications and tuning.

The original firearm was one of the most futuristic-looking rifles at the time of its adoption due to its bullpup configuration and heavy use of polymers. Thanks to its small size, long barrel, and good ergonomics, it makes a perfect choice for close and mid-range engagements on airsoft fields.

Produced mainly from polymers and metal alloys, this 810mm long replica is fed from a hicap magazine. AUG A1 weighs around 3400g and shoots in semi and full-automatic from a 510mm long inner barrel.

Elements like optical sight, outer barrel, upper receiver, and muzzle device are made from metal, with the body, buttstock, pistol grip, front grip, and magazine manufactured from polymers. Integrated optical sight provides 1.5 magnification, while a foldable front grip enhances the comfort of use and control over the replica. V3-type gearbox guarantees adequate performance and provides a stable base for further tuning and modifications.

Moderate dimensions and good performance make AUG A1 a great cost-effective choice for new players starting their adventure with airsoft.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

This model is a highly accurate replica of the legendary German StG44 assault rifle. As it's a full-metal AEG with wooden parts, this gun is particularly interesting for collectors. The battery is to be placed in the stock, where there is only enough space for an 8.4V battery. This means that the stock wasn't hollowed completely, ensuring maximum strength.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

As one of the most recognizable airsoft brands from China, Jing Gong collected vast experience in the creation of cost-effective replicas. JG products are a great entry-level choice for new players and provide a good base for further modifications and tuning.

The original firearm was one of the most futuristic-looking rifles at the time of its adoption. This particular model is delivered in a "Compact" modernized configuration. Thanks to its moderate size, collapsible stock, and good ergonomics, it makes a perfect choice for close and mid-range engagements on airsoft fields.

This 720/810mm long replica is fed from a hicap magazine, weighs around 2800g, and shoots in semi and full-automatic from a 256mm long inner barrel. At the front, we can find a polymer handguard with a RIS system paired with a rail at the top. This setup allows the user to attach different accessories suitable to their preference or mission requirements. The barrel is outfitted with 14 mm CCW thread and can take a multitude of various muzzle devices. The collapsible buttstock is comfortable to use and helps with quick target acquisition. Modernized magwell gives the ability to use STANAG-type AR-15 magazines.

The JG36C Operator is predominantly manufactured from high-quality ABS polymer with few elements fabricated from aluminum alloy - just like the original.

Elements like sights, rails, barrel, and flash hider are made from metal, with the pistol grip, stock, body, and handguard manufactured from polymers. V3-type gearbox guarantees optimal performance and provides a stable base for further tuning and modifications.

Moderate dimensions and good performance make JG36C Operator a great cost-effective choice for new players starting their adventure with airsoft.

Due to it's quite high mounting rail you should not use too high red dot sights. Otherwise you will have trouble resting your cheek onto the stock during boning. That makes it very inconvenient and decreases the precision. In that case we recommend the PX6 from Pirate Arms.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Nerve are traditional-looking goggles developed by Wiley X for superb eye protection for sport shooting, military, and law enforcement agencies. The lens is extruded, cut, and heat formed from a shatterproof Selenite™ polycarbonate. The glass is then layered in scratch-resistant and fog-proof hard coating for increased resistance to grazing and surface damage. It also guarantees 100% UVA and UVB protection with distortionless clarity. The grey-tinted lens grant 15% light transmission, absorb colors equally for proper hue perception, and nullifies reflections. The reinforced frame is injection molded from Tryloid nylon and anatomically shaped for improved comfort. The utilized material makes it lightweight and exceptionally durable. The Facial Cavity Seal is responsible for blocking-out dirt, dust, and peripheral light. Nerve goggles comply with harsh protection norms while having a mix of modern and traditional looks. It makes them a prime choice for military and law enforcement.
